Sporting News – District Athletics

The Bribie Island State School Athletics Team recently competed in the Caboolture District Athletics Carnival. The carnival was held over 2 days at Apex Park, Caboolture. Bribie competitors gave their all, with many students achieving personal best results.

Lachlan Alleyne finished 2nd in the 11yrs 200m final and 4th in the 100m final. Lachlan has qualified for the Regional Carnival being held later this term on the Sunshine Coast. We wish Lachlan all the best at this carnival.

Some other great results included Adam Hodge-Menzies finishing 3rd in the 11yrs 800m final. Amber Hoskinson also finished 3rd in the 10yrs 800m final. Maddy Scully finished 3rd in the 10yrs Shot Put with a personal best throw and Tiffany McErlane finished 4th in the 12yrs Discus.

Congratulations to all team members who helped our school finish 5th on points in Division 2. A big thank you to all the parents who came to support their children over the two days. Thank you also to Mrs Archer-Scott for assisting with training and being our Team Manager throughout the carnival.

Principal's Pentium

Dear Parents and Care Givers,

Wakakirri

I start this week's newsletter celebrating the tremendous achievement of Mrs Van Damme's year two class at the Regional Wakakirri competition. Wakakirri is a competition where students use dance and performance, backed with music, to perform a story or dance.

As part of their school unit of work Mrs Van Damme, assisted by Mrs Thornley have utilised the avenue of Wakakirri to provide a real-life performance to achieve their curriculum goals.

Competing against five other teams, predominantly consisting of upper grade students, our year two class were recognised with three awards.

One for their Team Spirit, one for the Environmentally Sustainable use of resources for costumes and thirdly finishing as overall Runners Up.

Our school is very proud of the class. All students provided great efforts and committed fully to both during and after school work to achieve such success. The school also would like to thank Marie and Bob Hall, Ken Piva and Michelle Savy for assisting on the evening. Thanks to Simone Woodham for her guidance along the way.

How much does it cost to educate your child?

Did you know that considering all funding it costs approximately $60.00 a day to educate each child at our school.

Is your child attending every day to gain their $60.00 of learning? Unfortunately we cannot credit your child for the $60.00 of learning they miss if they are away. In fact that $60.00 of learning is shared by the other students who attend on the day.

This financial analogy serves to highlight the opportunity provided each and every day for your child/children. If we were to push this analogy further we could ask – While at school is your child spending their $60.00 wisely, by engaging fully in the learning available or are they goofing off. Or even more challenging is your child's behaviour interrupting the opportunity of all the other students in accessing their $60.00 of learning?

Remember this $60.00 does not come from raffles or lotto winnings, it comes from our taxes. Rest assured our school staff work tirelessly to ensure our school funds are used wisely each and every day to provide all who attend and engage in school the best possible outcomes.

Vietnam Veterans March

This Saturday I am encouraging all members of our school to join our school leaders and myself in marching in recognition of the commitment made by our Vietnam Veterans. A school's growing maturity is shown in how it participates and shows respect for the community and its valued events.

We will be assembling and having the roll marked in Apex Park (next to the Bongaree Sports Club) at 3:30pm, for the march to the RSL Club from 3:55pm.

Students should be collected from the RSL at the latest by 5:00pm. Students should be in full school uniform. Parents and friends are welcome to march with us.

School Opinion Survey

The Education Department takes this time each year to collect information about schools through the annual School Opinion Survey. All year five and seven students complete a survey, all staff complete a survey and a random sample of forty five parents also are asked to complete a survey. Data from the survey is used to inform school reviews and future planning.

School-Wide Positive Behaviour

Each fortnight our school provides a focus for guiding student's behaviour. Over the coming fortnight while maintaining all school rule expectations we will be focussing on Calm Movement around the school. Whether it is between lessons, at break periods, or after school or while travelling on the bus we require all students to move in a safe and calm manner.

Pedagogical Framework – Art and Science of Teaching – Learning Goals / Objective s / Feedback

As shared in last fortnight's newsletter our school is progressing along our learning journey to embed a key framework for our school focussing on maximising student outcomes.

This week staff have discussed the importance of establishing Learning Goals and associated benefits appropriate Feedback has on improving student outcomes. Lesson goals and objectives clearly articulated and reviewed at the end of the teaching sequence provide immense benefit in improving student outcome. Similarly students who negotiate their own learning goals and subsequently received appropriate, frequent and focussed feedback also are seen to make huge improvements. Over coming weeks we will be making a school-wide focus on implementing learning goals in a structured and supported way.

Tidy Turtle

Many thanks to Mrs Lutton for leading our school's efforts around our Tidy Turtle strategy. This symbolic award presented each fortnight on assembly encourages each class to take ownership of an area in the school, maintaining its cleanliness and grounds. Well done to the Prep 4 class as last fortnight's winner. Thanks go to Chris Waller for creating a school uniform and school bag for 'turtle' so he could attend school appropriate uniformed.

Attendance Award

Mrs Lutton is also leading our school focus on maximising attendance. It is not 'rocket science' to know that student achievement is directly linked to the student's attendance at school. At each assembly we present two awards recognising the class with the highest percentage of student attendance. We also recognise the class with the greatest improvement in attendance over the last week. This strategy has already seen our attendance improve by 2.3% over the past fortnight.

The third string to our attendance focus is that all students who attend at least 95% of the days each term will go in the draw with a chance to win a $100.00 open order. We want everyone at school every day.

Reporting

Over the coming weeks teachers will be sending home notes regarding oral reporting which will occur this term. Please avail yourself of this opportunity to catch up with your child's teacher for a current update on your child's progress.

Something to help at both school and home:

How to Get Your Child to Do What You Ask - The First Time

Stop and think. Do you find yourself saying over and over to your child, 'brush your teeth', 'get started on your homework', 'clean up your room', or 'go to bed'? This is such an energy burner for parents. We often get into the pattern of telling our child to do something, then telling them again 10 minutes later, and again 30 minutes later when we notice that they still hasn't done what we asked!

Your child has probably developed several strategies to put things off as long as possible. She/he has learned to distract you by whining, bringing up something else she/he has to do right now (like watching the rest of her/his "favourite" tv program), starting an argument, or just downright ignoring you. Since you are probably busy doing something, it's easy to forget for a moment that she/he has not done what you asked. When you have to ask again, you are just a little bit frustrated. The third time - you are angry, and a simple request becomes a source of tension and conflict.

You can change this pattern and it's not too late! Use these simple steps each time you ask your child to do something. They take just a little bit more time and attention at the first request, but will save time and frustration in the long run. With practice, they will become a habit. The results will be less frustration, anger, and stress for you and more respect, compliance, and self-discipline from your child. This self-discipline will help your child meet expectations at school too.

- Decide in your own mind what you want the child to do and the time frame you will accept for her/his compliance - immediately, within 15 minutes, whatever.
- Get their attention. That means making eye contact at the very least. Don't yell it from the kitchen. If you are busy in another room, ask the child to come to you before you make the request.
- Tell her/him specifically what you want her/him to do. "Go brush your teeth right this minute so you can get to school on time."
- Watch to make sure she/he starts to do what you asked.
- Praise her/him for doing what you asked. (Don't leave out this step!)
- If she/he does not begin doing what you asked or does not complete the task, ask "What did I ask you to do?"
- If she/he correctly tells you what you asked her/him to do, say, "That's good, now do it."
- If she/he does not do what you asked then - STOP THE WORLD - the child does not do another thing until she/he does what you asked.
- If the child begins to throw a temper tantrum or continues to avoid doing what you asked, put her/him in a short time-out. When she/he comes out tell her/him to do what you asked. Don't let it go or she/he will learn to avoid responsibility by causing an uproar.

The continued focus on this process will mean you will decrease the frequency you will need to work through all these steps.

From the Deputy Principal's Desk

Dear Parents and Care Givers,

We are getting very excited about our Literacy and Numeracy week celebrations of learning. Our Prep to Year 3 students and teachers will be celebrating reading by dressing up as their favourite book character on Monday 27 August. We will be having a special parade at 9:15am where everyone will have the chance to show off their costume. All families are most welcome to attend and to share in celebrating the importance of reading. The parade will take place in our hall.

Classes are also in the process of working towards our Spelling Bee. Please help our students with their spelling whenever you can – I know that this is always a very exciting time for all concerned. Our Spelling Bee challenges will take place on Thursday 30 August for Preps to Year 5 students and Friday 31 August for Year 6 and 7 students. More information will be sent home closer to the events. We will also be holding a Math challenge leading up to these assemblies. Each class will be looking for their Math Champion to challenge for the title of Year Level Math Champion. The medals for each year level champion will be presented on the day of our spelling bee competitions.

We continue to hold our Prep Enrolment and Information sessions for those who will be enrolling for 2013. The next session will be Wednesday 12 September at 5 pm in the Prep 4 classroom. Mrs Fiona Bell will be discussing "What a Day in Prep looks like!" If you are aware of any families interested in enrolling for 2013, please pass this invitation on to them for us.

Well done to everyone collecting Coles Sports Vouchers and Woolworths Earn and Learn stickers. We have exceeded our targets with these collections and are looking forward to selecting and then receiving our resources.

Our Year 7 students will be preparing for the Public Speaking auditions. Students are then chosen to compete in the public speaking competition at the RSL later in the year. We wish all of our students the very best as they prepare for this event.

We also have a number of students who will be participating in the LOTE competition at the University of Sunshine Coast on Sunday 26 August from 10:00 to 1:30. In this competition our students have to memorise a prepared speech, recite the speech and then answer questions about the speech. All of this is in the Indonesian language! We wish the following students the very best for their participation on Sunday: Year 5 – Montana Govorko, Jessica Manuel and Hannah Dadswell. Year 6- Adam Firns, Ty McDonald, Nick Ward and Lachlan Alleyne. Year 7- Sophie Radley, Chloe Manttan and Jaycoda Gerrard.

The students that represent our school for inter-school sport continue to impress. There have been many positive comments made by parents and other school teams with regard to the strong sportsmanship and skill of the students at Bribie Island State School.

We wish to remind all students that homework is an essential part of supporting your child to learn at school. At Bribie Island State School we expect that all children complete the homework set by their teacher to consolidate their in-class learning and Be an Active Learner. We ask that you support your child to complete their homework, whilst ensuring that they complete the expected tasks themselves. Please see your class teacher if you have any issues regarding homework.

Our Bribie Blitz for the next two weeks is a focus on having a Calm exit from classrooms or from lessons. We will be encouraging our students to walk calmly at end of play back to classroom, to walk calmly at the end of the school day as they leave the grounds or head to bus line. We also continue to reinforce safe bus behaviour to ensure that all students follow the expectations of sitting quietly on the bus to enable the bus driver to be able to concentrate on driving safely without distraction. We thank you for your support in reinforcing these messages with your children.

Have a great two weeks.

Warm regards

Headlice

PLEASE

Complaints about headlice continue to be received at the school. Please be advised

- headlice do not live at school.
- headlice are bought to school by students.
- headlice do not transmit disease.
- having headlice is not a sign of poor hygiene. In fact most headlice prefer very clean hair.
- the only way to effectively reduce headlice is for everyone to investigate and treat at the same time.

We are sending this information in the hope all will treat this weekend as an action period for headlice. Please help our school community by checking and treating headlice this weekend.

The Facts (The following is from various research studies on headlice.)

- Nits (the eggs of the head louse) are small yellowish-white, oval-shaped eggs that are attached at an angle to the side of a hair shaft by glue.
- Nits must be laid by live lice. You cannot "catch nits."
- Once laid it takes 7-10 days for a nit to hatch and another 7-10 days for the female to mature and begin laying her own eggs.
- Head lice are clear in colour when hatched, they develop a reddish-brown colour after feeding.
- Head lice are small, wingless insects which feed on human blood and do not thrive on pets.
- Head lice are about the size of sesame seeds and have six legs with claws to grasp the hair.
- Head lice are crawling insects. They cannot hop, jump, or fly.
- Head lice off their human hosts will starve and die in 24 hours.

Head lice do not jump or fly and cannot survive longer than 24 hours off the human host.

What product should I use to treat my child?

There are no 'safe' pesticides, "natural" or otherwise, scientifically proven to be 100% effective against head lice, nits or nit glue. Reliance on head lice treatment products alone promotes repeated use of potentially harmful chemicals and contributes to ongoing infestations, outbreaks, and resistant strains of head lice. Parents should be discouraged from spending unnecessary time and money on "concoctions" for which there is no scientific basis for claims of efficacy and human safety. A wide variety of such "lice remedies" are vigorously marketed to consumers especially via the Internet. The result is more confusion for families already deluged with conflicting and unfounded treatment recommendations.

Manual removal is the safe alternative and necessary component to any head lice treatment regimen. Combing tools enable families to screen often, detect head lice early and thoroughly remove lice and nits.

How do you treat for headlice?

Schools and homes don't get head lice -- people do. Head lice are human parasites and require human blood to survive. Vacuuming is the safest and best way to remove lice or fallen hairs with attached nits from upholstered furniture, rugs, stuffed animals and cars. Save your time and energy for that which benefits you the most -- thorough nit removal.

Do I have to treat everyone in the house?

Use a nit-removal comb to check everyone first! Lice treatment products have potential health hazards and should not be used 'just in case' a child has lice or in an effort to prevent them. Even if lice are confirmed on an individual careful consideration should be given before deciding to use a pesticide shampoo or other treatment because each person has unique health needs.

Where do headlice come from?

Head lice do not come "out of the air" or from the ground. They are human parasites and come from people. Desiccated (dried up) head lice and their eggs have been found on the hair and scalps of Egyptian mummies. While headlice are around all year they often are more prominent in the dry winter months.

Do headlice jump?

Head lice do not have hind legs to hop or jump, nor wings with which to fly – they crawl.

What is the school doing?

- Discouraging the sharing of hats and other hair items by students.
- Discouraging students from playing too closely and making head to head contact.
- Monitoring students who complain of itchy hair and referring such to parents. Schools cannot 'check hair' by touching a child's head. Observation without touching will sometimes note headlice.
- Encouraging all parents to check a child's head frequently.
- Meeting rules on management of headlice. Basically this states that once a child has been treated they can return to class.
- Encouraging parents to have their children wear their long hair tied back.

What children should know about stranger danger?

Being careful with strangers

- Do not talk to strangers. Talking to them makes it easier for them to trick you. Say “go ask an adult”. This is not being rude, it is being safe.
- Do not tell a stranger your name and address. It is none of their business.
- Keep your distance from a stranger. You do not want them to get close enough to grab you. At least two arms lengths is a good rule of thumb. No one has the right to touch you or make you feel uncomfortable. Yell “No!” It is your right. Tell your parents as soon as possible if this happens.
- Never accept a gift, candy, or anything from a stranger. Tell your parents if a stranger offers you something.
- Never help a stranger if they ask you to find a lost dog, cat, or anything. This is likely to be a trick. Grown-ups who need help should ask other grown-ups.
- Never help a grown-up with directions. Again, grown-ups should ask grown-ups for help.
- Never go near a car with a stranger in it. Don’t get in any car without your parents permission. If a car stops near you, do not go near it.
- Never go anywhere with a stranger, even if they say they know your parents. Your parents would never ask a stranger to pick you up.

Being careful outside

- Don’t walk around alone, try to stay with friends, parents, or other relatives.
- When you are out in public, make sure your parents can always see you.
- Do not take short cuts through bush/park lands or down dark alleys. Stay on the heavily travelled streets, where there is lots of activity. Stay away from places where there are no people around.
- Be alert to your surroundings. If you have your music blasting away on the iPod, it is hard to stay alert.

If you sense trouble

- If someone is following you or chasing you, go to where there are lots of people and lots of bright lights. Bad guys don’t want witnesses. Run to a police station, fire station, a trusted neighbours house, or somewhere your parents say is safe.
- Run away as fast as you can if you sense danger. It is better to run than to try to fight an adult who is three times your size. Strike, kick, scratch, and bite if you have no other choice.
- If someone grabs you, yell at the top of your voice “I don’t know this person”.
- Scream. Your voice is your best weapon. This will draw attention to the bad guy. Bad guys do not like attention.
- Trust that little voice inside you that says “something about this person is not right”. The little voice is rarely wrong.

Kids home safety

- Know your home/parents phone number and your address. Also know how to call emergency.
- Never answer the door alone. Make sure your parents are in the room if you answer it.
- Never tell a phone caller your name or address. If you are home alone, tell them your parents are busy and will call
